

Story starter!

---

James' lifelong ambition was to reach the peak and capture the view before the sun rose. He was an experienced climber who had overcome many challenges, battled extreme weather conditions and dedicated his life to training. After hours of feeling like no progress was being made, and with only his trusty head torch for company, James finally noticed a change in the sky. The scene was breathtakingly beautiful. The splinters of light pierced through the clouds like knives, and soft snow covered the peaks like icing on a cupcake. James paused and drew breath as he set up his tripod in the hope of pausing time and framing this precious memory.

Question time!

---

- ▶ Where has James climbed to?
- ▶ What will happen to the cloud formation when the sun rises completely?
- ▶ Why did he decide to photograph the scene?

Perfect picture!

---

As the sun rises, James will be able to see more of the view from the mountain top. Can you draw what you think he will be able to see?

Sentence challenge!

---

- ▶ The splinters of light pierced through the clouds like knives, and soft snow covered the peaks like icing on a cupcake.

This sentence contains two similes. Can you use a descriptive simile to complete the following sentence starters?

Sick sentences!

---

These sentences are 'sick' and need your help to get better! Can you improve them?

- ▶ The sun rose over the mountaintop.
- ▶ James watched the clouds disappear.

